ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Thank you to all of the individuals and institutions that provided me the regular updates needed to complete the 2011 regional studbook. Without the information you all provided the studbook would not be possible.

I'd like to thank the Albuquerque Biological Park for their continued support of me as the Regional Snow Leopard Studbook Keeper. A special thanks to Jennifer Vanorman for the use of her photos of Bhutan the snow leopard born at the Albuquerque Biological Park in July '08.

A thank you to Jay Tetzloff Species Coordinator of the Snow Leopard and the rest of the Steering Committee for all of their hard work during the Master Planning sessions for the snow leopard.

A final Thank you to Leif Blomqvist, International Snow Leopard Studbook Keeper, for continuing to provide current updates to the studbook. Without his help the accuracy of this studbook would not be possible.

If any institution or individual would like to make corrections or additions to the studbook, please send your data to Lynn Tupa at ltupa@cabq.gov, or Albuquerque Biological Park, 903 Tenth St. SW, Albuquerque NM 87102.

Scope of the Studbook

This studbook describes the living population of snow leopards (Uncia uncia) limited to North American, in AZA accredited institutions (the United States and Canada) that have contributed data to the 2011 studbook. The data in this studbook is current as of 20 November 2011. The living population of the studbook is listed in order of SPARKS mnemonic for each institution. The historic population is listed by studbook number and includes all snow leopards that have passed through North American captive breeding facilities from 1903 to 20 November, 2011. It is important to note that any snow leopards currently at an institution that did not reply to the 2011 inquiry are listed as lost-to-follow-up.

Status of the population in captivity

The living population comprises 75.82.0 (157) specimens at 73 institutions.

The historic population includes 611.653.94 (1358) individuals.

Description of data fields

Studbook: They are originally assigned with Temporary (T0000) numbers until the Permanent number is assigned by the International Studbook Keeper.

Sex: F for female; M for male; ? for unknown; f for contracepted/neutered female, m for contracepted/neutered male.

Birth Date: For captive born animals, this is the actual date of birth. Birth dates for wild-caught animals were estimated to the nearest month or year. Birth dates for wild-caught animals with no estimated birth date or recorded age and animals with unknown histories are indicated by ?????

Sire and Dam: The parents of each specimen are identified by their studbook numbers. If parents are unknown, they are indicated by "UNK". Wild-born founders are indicated by "WILD".

Location: The location, referenced in the Location Glossary, indicates a specimen's location or owner as of that date.

Date: The date an event occurred. For example, the birth, capture, or transfer of an animal.

Local ID: This is the institution's accession number for a particular specimen. In most cases, this is the same as the institution's ISIS number for that specimen.

Event: Birth, captures, transfers, loans or deaths.

Name: For those specimens that have been given a house name, the most recently assigned name is listed.

Natural History

Identification – Thick gray, white, or yellowish fur coat with ringed spots of black on brown. The paws and tail are heavily furred. The head relatively small for it's body size, has small ears and a heavy brow.

They are approximately 2 feet at the shoulders, 6 – 7 feet long (includes the 40 inch tail). The tail which is used for balance can be nearly as long as the rest of it's body. They weigh between 60 – 120 pounds; with the females typically smaller than the males.

Lifespan – Due to their reclusive nature, it is hard to determine their lifespan in the wild. In captivity they have been known to live as long as 21 years.

Diet – Their main prey is the Blue Sheep, Argali, Markhor, Ibex, and other small mammals and birds.

Population – It is estimated that there are between 3,000 and 7,000 left in the wild.

Range – They are found in the mountain range of Central Asia, from Afghanistan to Kazakstan and Russia, to northern India and China. They can be found at altitudes between 9,000 to 17,000 feet high where the terrain is steep and rocky providing good coverage to help them sneak up on their prey. Each snow leopard has defined home range that overlaps with other cats in the area. Depending upon the availability of prey, their home ranges can be from 30 -65 square kilometers up to 1,000 square kilometers.

Reproduction – Mating season is usually between January to mid-March in the wild. In captivity they have been known to breed from January to June. Gestation is between 98 and 106 days, and litter size can be between 1-4 cubs.

Legal Status/Protection – Endangered, CITIES Appendix 1
