Introduction

Throughout their history in captivity, there has been some difficulty in differentiating between the Two-toed sloth species - Hoffman's two toed sloths (Choloepus hoffmanni) and Linne's two toed sloths (Choloepus didactylus.) There have been different opinions over time as to how to tell the difference between these species. Therefore, some animals have been incorrectly identified. This resulted in hybrids, animals that have had their species changed, and animals that still have not been classified because of incomplete data. Recently, a DNA test was established that is able to correctly identify the species. This test can only track a species according to the maternal lineage, so it is unable to verify hybrids. But this test is an important step in correctly classifying the North American population of Two-toed sloths.

Also, it is difficult to differentiate between the sexes of Two-toed sloths. Therefore, individuals have had their sex classification changed within the studbook.

The PAX TAG is in the process of sorting out the Two-toed sloth population. We have made great progress in being able to correctly identify individuals since the last studbook publication. We will continue to ask for participation from institutions to submit samples from their sloths for DNA analysis as well as seek assistance if you suspect your sloth has been classified as the wrong sex. This studbook includes the most accurate data we have now, but as we continue to learn more, animals may change sex, studbooks or be classified as hybrids.

Through DNA analysis, we were able to confirm that both dams at Salisbury, now SB# 196 and #197 are confirmed didactylus. This has a significant impact on the population. This eliminates several hybrids. These individuals are all now listed in the didactylus studbook.

- #492 hoffmanni stbk. is now 330 didactylus
- #493 hoffmanni stbk. is now 583 didactylus
- #494 hoffmanni stbk. is now 502 didactylus
- #495 hoffmanni stbk. is now 589 didactylus
- #496 hoffmanni stbk. is now 596 didactylus
- #497 hoffmanni stbk. is now 590 didactylus
- #531 hoffmanni stbk. is now 591 didactylus
- #558 hoffmanni stbk. is now 592 didactylus
- #559 hoffmanni stbk. is now 593 didactylus
- #560 hoffmanni stbk. is now 594 didactylus

Also, due to this clarification, we were able to determine that #391 hoffmanni (who was listed in both studbooks), should be in the didactylus studbook and is now #661 housed at Toronto Zoo.

There are still a few hybrids in the population. The following animals have been classified as hybrids and are listed in their dam's studbook. To help with population analysis, these individuals now have a H in front of their number. I would advise that these animals not be bred.

- didactylus stbk. #H669 (housed at Audubon)
- didactylus stbk. #H667 (housed at Metro Richmond Zoo)
- hoffmanni stbk. #H520 (housed at Busch Gardens)

To help with population analysis, the Sires to these hybrids now have a S in front of their number. They are listed in both studbooks (so that a sire could be entered for each hybrid), but there is a UDF indicating they are the other species. They are hoffmanni and their complete records are in the hoffmanni studbook. These individuals are listed below:

- hoffmanni stbk # S540 (housed at Omaha)
- hoffmanni stbk # S211 (died at San Antonio)
- hoffmanni stbk # S248 (died at Sedgwick)

If you have any additions or corrections in the studbook data, please contact the studbook keeper at your earliest convenience. If you are still completing a SSP recommended transfer, please update the studbook keeper once it is complete.

Conventions

- A sloth that has been determined to be a hybrid is now listed in the dam's studbook.
- If a sloth's species is unknown it is listed in the C. didactylus studbook. There is only example of this occurring:
- didactylus stbk. # 612 -- #635 are historical sloths from Detroit that were not classified as either species.

Data Field Descriptions

- WILD = individual's sire/dam is unknown, but from the wild
 - UNK = individual's sire/dam is unknown. Sire/Dam could be from the wild or captivity. If there was no evidence to who the sire/dam was, it was left as UNK.
 - MULT1 = in the didactylus Studbook - the dam is either SB#196 or #197 at Salisbury. They are both confirmed didactylus.
 - MULT1 = in the hoffmanni Studbook - the sire is either SB#513 or #514 at Busch Gardens.
 - MULT2 = in the hoffmanni Studbook - the dam is either SB#238 or #241 at Palm Beach Zoo
- Hybrid = an individual has been proven as a hybrid (Yes or No)
 - Species = an individual has had its DNA tested to determine species (Tested or blank)
 - Didactylus or Hoffmans = an animal is in both studbooks because it is a sire to a hybrid. Therefore, it will state "Yes" if the animal is actually the other species.
